The image shows a close-up of a book cover with a traditional marbled paper pattern. The pattern consists of large, irregular, light-brown or tan-colored 'stones' or 'cells' separated by a network of fine, dark lines. These lines are primarily black, but also include thin veins of red and blue. The overall effect is a dense, organic, and somewhat chaotic texture. In the bottom-left corner, there is a small, rectangular red label with a white border. The label contains the text 'CS71', '.C913', and '1887' stacked vertically in a black, sans-serif font. The label is slightly worn and has a small tear at the top left corner.

PREFATORY NOTE.

These imperfect memoranda of the family genealogy are published in the hope that those into whose possession they may fall will be induced to collect and transmit to the writer such information as may come in their way.

To facilitate making corrections it has been printed upon alternate pages, leaving the intermediate ones blank for the reception of notes.

It is not advisable to carry the records of descendants from FEMALE members farther than the third generation as they belong to the families whose name they bear, and this will be enough to enable them to connect themselves with their Crehore ancestry if desired.

All information sent to the undersigned will be carefully preserved in a special file for use in the future preparation of a more complete family history.

The writer has to acknowledge the welcome assistance of every member of the family whom he has addressed in relation to the work and especially to one whose complete memoranda regarding the earlier generations have much lightened his labors.

CHARLES FREDERIC CREHORE,

P. O. Box 1252 BOSTON. MASS.

THE CREHORE FAMILY.

Between 1640–1650 there appeared in Dorchester a young lad who went by the name of Teague Crehore. He was said to be of Irish origin, but as no such name occurs in the United Kingdom, it is probable that his surname was given an erroneous orthography; all the more in that he could not, at a later date, write it. The Irish surname “Krehaw” corresponds phonetically with Crehore especially as the latter is pronounced by old residents of Milton and Dor. On the other hand many have thought it might be a misspelling of “Creagh”. There is a tradition in the family that he had been abducted from his home and brought to this country when quite a child. The place of his birth and his true name must rest undetermined, probably, forever.

In regard to the date of his birth. An old Milton parish record gives his death as occurring June 3d. 1695, at the age of 55 years. As his widow took out Letters of Administration on his estate Jan. 22d. 1695, Suffolk Probate rec. Lib. 10. fol. 723, it is probable that the date of d. was Jan. instead of June. This would make his birth date about 1640. An old unrecorded deed formerly in the possession of Mr. Thomas Crehore, in which John Gill conveyed to T. a piece of Salt marsh, was dated Dec. 1660, at which time he was presumably of age. Among Suffolk Deeds Lib. 7, fol. 281, is the record of a conveyance by Teger and Mary Crehore to Robert Badcock of a piece of land bordering on the Neponset River, being the same bought by T. of John Smith of Dorchester, dated Jan. 21st. 1670.

He married, probably in 1665, Mary, said to be the daughter of Robert Spurr of Dorchester. There is no record of the marriage but her parentage seems to be generally admitted. Robert Spurr is mentioned in the Hist. of Dorchester, published by E. Clapp, Boston 1859, at pp. 232, 237, 279.

T. was buried in what is now the family lot in Milton Cemetery. There is no headstone and the exact spot is undetermined. Many of his descendants are buried about him. The Inventory of his estate extracted from the Probate record referred to above is as follows.
